Annapolis

As you all very well know Annapolis is on its way. Very close in fact, it is going to be held on Jan. 14 and end Jan. 16. We will meet at St. Marks and leave around 5:00pm and at around 7:00pm we will stop for dinner at the service plaza on the Delaware Turnpike and then arrive at Camp Letts around 9:00pm (this is what I heard, not final). I'm sorry to announce that whoever was planning on taking the Aviation merit badge should start working on your second choice because it will not be available.

Editor's Note

Hello, I am sorry that I have not written anything recently but between the holiday season and sickness I have not gotten a chance. I also need to tell you that one article from one of the scouts was accidentally erased I was unable to include it.

Merry Heart

First of all I would like to say that 2nd year Webelos are welcome to come on this campout. Merry Heart is an annual trip that's always a lot of fun. It is a cabin Campout and the only one that the leaders do all cooking and cleaning (take advantage of this, only comes once a year). There are going to be patrol competitions depending on the weather. It will be held on Jan. 22-23 we will arrive 10:00am Saturday morning and leave 11:00am Sunday morning. The cost is $25.00 for scouts, $15.00 for registered leaders, $5.00 for dinner, and Webelos and parents for free. Sign ups will be at next meeting (Jan. 10 if this is late).

Winnebago

This past campout was one of the best that I have been on. We had cooking (my dad cooked the best, my fav warm cookies), cleaning (ya hoo!!), a football game (we got massacred), and good old fashion scout fun. On this campout there wasn't really anything besides free time to do what you want. We had the basic "how to start a fire" and orienteering, that is all (not in a sarcastic way).
